

PORTORA ROYAL SCHOOL ADVERSE WEATHER CONDITIONS: STUDENTS POLICY

Given the fact that many of our students leave home for school at a time before information regarding school closure could be communicated to them, it is the policy of Portora Royal School to remain open to receive students in adverse weather conditions.

Given the distances many of students would have to travel if the school was closed early, it is the policy of Portora Royal School to remain open to students in adverse weather conditions for as long as it takes to ensure that they can access appropriate travel arrangements home.

If numbers of pupils and staff are depleted to the extent that it is not possible to run the normal timetable, ad hoc timetable arrangements will be made to ensure the education and supervision of the students who are in school.
